Genocide and the State: The Coldest of Cold Monsters

A reflection on the relationship between genocide and the state within modern political philosophy, suggesting that the innermost core of Western modernity already evinces a genocidal standpoint that pursues “absolute integration.”

Guest Speaker

Martin Shuster
Professor of Philosophy
Isaac Swift Distinguished Professor of Jewish Studies

October 26, 2023 - 6:45 p.m.
Rubenstein - 249

co-sponsored by:
Jewish Studies - Program in Literature - Political Science - Kenan Institute for Ethics